EVIL OF POLITICS.

How It Shows Itself In the Conduct of City Waterworks.

Paper Read by John M. Diven, Secretary of the American Waterworks Association, at the Meeting of the Organization Held in June of the Present Year.

That politics does in many cases—probably a large majority of cases—enter into the management of waterworks owned and operated by cities and towns will not be denied. And that this is not right, is absolutely a menace to the health and welfare of the citizens in many cases, as well as a great financial loss, will not, I think, be denied. Too much depends upon the proper management of a public water supply to make it safe or right to allow politics to control or affect it.

To be a good waterworks superintendent or manager requires, in addition to ability and adaptability, long study and practice. If these managers are to be changed every time the city administration changes, it is evident that they can never have the experience that they should have to perform their duties properly. No matter how good men they may be they will still lack the proper training and experience.

This follows throughout the entire staff—office force, inspector, street foreman, meter readers and repairers, engineers and firemen—in fact, the entire force.

Again, will men who only expect to hold the "job" for two or three years give it the study and attention that it should have? It is not natural that they should; there is little incentive for them to do so; they know that the next election is likely to go the other way, so that they will have to go at some other work.

Then they have other duties to perform, other masters to serve—the men or party that put them in the position. Party allegiance must be observed at no matter what cost to the citizens. The men are employed for their politics, not for their worth or fitness for the particular position.

Under these circumstances, are the best men always or even usually chosen—the men fitted for the work?

The public water supply is a matter too all important to be made subservient to politics or any consideration except that of the very best possible supply of the purest water obtainable. All must use water. If it is pure and good, the health of the people will be good and the community will be prosperous. Because it is a healthy city with a low typhoid death rate home seekers will be attracted to it. But without proper supervision and management the purity of the water will in most cases always be in danger.

These political changes are often brought to the writer's attention in his capacity as secretary of this association, one of his duties being to try and keep track of the waterworks people of America. How frequently he finds these changes—for purely political reasons—going on! How many changes have to be made in our list of members for this reason! In looking back over the years of his connection with the association the number of such changes that come to mind is almost as long as the present list of members.

A man drops out, is not heard from. One of our associate members calls and in the course of conversation tells of a visit in "Grafton." Asked about Smith, the old superintendent, he says: "Why, hadn't you heard? At the last election there was a complete change in the political complexion of the city. Smith and all the old commissioners are out. Jones is the superintendent now." The commission is new, the superintendent is new, just because there has been a change in the political control. Smith was a good man for the position, had long experience, thoroughly understood the work in every detail, was familiar with the works, knew all their weak points. In his long years of service he had gathered about him a corps of able and trained assistants. The works were well managed, the quality of the water above suspicion, the quantity ample. The management was economical; waste was kept at the lowest possible point. The plant was in first class condition.

But Smith didn't belong to the right political party. He was not an active politician, but he hadn't helped the party now "in," had, in fact, voted against them; hence he must go. No matter if the quality of the water is not kept up, if the quantity is lacking when a big fire occurs because waste had not been watched; no matter if typhoid fever breaks out because the water supply has not been properly guarded and sickness, suffering and death follow, the active politician, the men who helped the party, must be rewarded.

Jones is an "active politician." He can—in fact, did—carry the Seventeenth ward for the party in power. He is a good man, sober, industrious and intelligent. There is nothing against him; no fault can be found with his appointment so far as character goes. He was a clockmaker and a good one, but had absolutely no knowledge or experience with waterworks management.

Then O'Sullivan had a strong pull in the Seventh and controlled many votes, which he pulled for the dominant party. He had run an engae in Alderman Riley's wood yard—he knew the difference between the throttle and the exhaust; hence he was put in charge of the expensive machinery at the pumping station.

Stopplebein was a clerk in Melson's drug store; hence knew all about chemistry, water analysis, etc., and he

FRANKLIN COUNTY CORRUPT ELECTIONS

The Beckham Followers De-nounced as Debauchers of the Ballot Box by a Democratic Paper In Frankfort.

"By the time this paper goes to press the election will be nearly over, and if it is carried on out in the state as it is in this city, may God save the country. The Beckham followers, who pose as reformers and more holy than thou people are the debauchers of the ballot box in this city. There has been a wholesale buying of votes here and an attempt to vote negroes that were not even registered as Democrats. All the ward heelers about town were busy as bees. If this policy is carried on generally in the state the grand old Democratic party is in bad hands. We do not know how it is in other places, but it is to be hoped that this the capital city is the only place in the state, where bribery in elections goes unpunished, where votes are bought openly. As it is done here only by the friends of Gov. Beckham, we wonder if he has not promised to pardon all his friends who are election offenders." —Frankfort.

AGAINST CONFISCATION.

Sound Arguments Put Forward in the Famous Hughes Veto.

Referring to the two cent fare bill which he recently vetoed, Governor Hughes of New York gave utterance to his views on the subject of confiscatory legislation as follows:

"It is of the greatest importance not only that railroad corporations should be compelled to respect their public obligations, but also that they should be permitted to operate under conditions which will give a fair return for their service. Upon this depends not simply the security of investors, but the security of their employees and the protection of every form of industry and commerce through the maintenance and extension of necessary transportation facilities. Nothing could be more opposed to the interests of the community as a whole than to cripple transportation corporations by arbitrary reductions of earnings.

"I fully appreciate the fact that those who have promoted this bill believe that such a ratio would be fair. But I deem it most important that the policy of dealing with matters of this sort arbitrarily, by legislative rule of general application without reference to the demands of justice in particular cases, should be condemned.

"Every workingman, every tradesman and every citizen believes himself to have a right at stake in the prosperity of the country should determine to oppose it, for it not only threatens the stability of business enterprise which makes our prosperity possible, but it substitutes unreason for sound judgment, the ill-considered demands of resentment for the spirit of fair play and makes impossible patient and honorable effort to correct abuses."

Great M. O. Graft Scheme.

The officials of a Kansas city have discovered a new way of working the graft scheme. Ignoring the fact that a private company had a franchise and contract for lighting the streets at a very low rate, they formed themselves into a company, voted themselves a franchise and made a contract with themselves for lighting the city. Under the terms of this contract the taxpayers furnish the building, labor, steam, oil, waste, etc., and the city agrees to take over the plant at any time within two years at the original cost plus 8 per cent per annum. The scheme has not been patented, and other city councils which find ordinary methods of grafting too slow are at liberty to make use of this process.</p

JEFFERSON DAVIS

Memorial at His Birthplace—Movement Takes Tangible Shape

The preservation of the birthplace of Jefferson Davis as a memorial to the first and only President of the Confederacy is practically assured, according to the members of the Orphan Brigade Committee.

It is proposed by the association to erect a handsome building on the grounds when they are obtained, and thus to preserve all the relics that can be secured pertaining to Jefferson Davis and his family. One room also will be devoted to biographical data of all Confederate soldiers and in others will be stored Confederate relics of every description.

It is not likely that any effort will be made to restore the log house in which Mr. Davis was born. The hundredth anniversary of Jefferson Davis' birth will be celebrated next June at Fairview under the auspices of the Davis Home Association, and it is to be made an event of large scope and widespread interest. Until the legal phase of obtaining the property are determined nothing further will be done by the committee.

The committee found that the original tract of six hundred acres of the Davis farm had been divided into town lots with the exception of a few acres, on which stood the old log house in which Jefferson Davis was born. This site is now occupied by heartful Bethel Church, dedicated in the presence of Jefferson Davis at the time of his last visit to his boyhood home, and deeded by him to the Baptist congregation of Fairview. The Davis Home Association does not propose to disturb in any way this house of worship, but will make an effort to purchase the remainder of the original homestead from its present owners. There are cottages and small buildings on some of the lots, but the proprietors generally expressed a willingness to dispose of their places at reasonable prices.

The old documents showing the boundaries of the Davis farm are now on record it is said, in Warren county.

GROWING CHILDREN

Advice to Mothers of Maysville.

Perhaps the most important principle involved in the care of a child is proper nourishment. How many delicate children do we meet on our streets with colorless cheeks and thin little legs and arms. It is very plain to be seen that rapid growth takes all their strength and their little bodies are not receiving sufficient nourishment to make them well, strong and robust.

We want to say to the parents of all such children in Maysville that our delicious cod liver and iron preparation, Vinol, will build up delicate children, fill out hollow cheeks and make them strong, rosy and healthy. Vinol makes new vitality, sound flesh and muscle tissue and pure, rich red blood, and children love it. This is because Vinol is a delicious tasting cod liver preparation without oil, made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cod's livers, thus combining with peptone of iron all the medicinal, healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

J. C. PECOR, Druggist, Maysville, Ky.

President Small of the Commercial Telegrapher's Union, has been suspended from office because he wanted to call off strike.

In the Court of Appeals Friday, Chief Justice O'Rear delivered an opinion reversing the Bracken Circuit Court in a case of the Commonwealth against Martha A. Ryan's executors. The proceeding was by the Sheriff in the County Court to list in the hands of personal representatives property alleged to have been omitted from taxation or assessment. It was filed within a week or so after the death, and was dismissed by the lower Court under Section 3847 of the Statutes, prohibiting the bringing of any such action within six months of the qualification of the personal representative. The Appellate court, in reversing, holds that the section does not apply to the Commonwealth. It holds the proceeding to be simply in the nature of an assessment of property, and a proper one to be instituted.

The old documents showing the boundaries of the Davis farm are now on record it is said, in Warren county.

SCORCHING ARRAIGNMENT

of Democratic Fraud and Inefficiency By Judge Breathitt Saturday Night.

Splendid Speech to a Large Crowd By Republican Nominee For Attorney General.

The speech of Judge Breathitt, the Republican nominee for Attorney General, at the Courthouse Saturday night, was a masterpiece.

For an hour and a half he held the attention of his audience with sledge hammer blows at the Democratic management, or rather the Frankfort rings, management of our state's finances; used Hager's own official reports as Auditor, in proof of how taxes were increased by the Beckham-Hager ring and burdens fastened upon the people of Kentucky by adding special taxes in order to fool the general taxpayers; showed the burdens inflicted by the revenue laws passed by the last Legislature, their frantic efforts to force money from the taxpayers by adding onerous penalties upon those not able to pay to the day; showed how they shifted cash from the sinking fund to the general fund without sanction of the law. He explained away the ingenious sophistries and deceit used by Democratic candidates in their speeches.

Judge Breathitt demonstrated his ability as a speaker and a powerful one. He stood on temperance matters as set forth in the Republican platform. He scorched the Democratic party in Kentucky for having no platform.

Judge Breathitt is a man of fine personality, has the look of superior intellect; splendidly educated he expressed himself in purest English. He was at times superbly eloquent and jewelled his address with sparkling witicism and telling anecdote. He was frequently applauded. He spoke kindly of his Democratic opponent. He ranks high as a lawyer and has one side or the other in important suits in Southern Kentucky. He is very popular with the people of his section. Was elected Circuit Judge in a Democratic District by about six hundred majority. He is clean in his life, and honored by men of all parties.

The people of Kentucky will get a prize if they make him attorney General.

Owing to counter attractions at the rink, the theater and two moving picture shows and the usual Saturday night outdoor liveliness, the crowd to hear Judge Breathitt was not as large as expected. However, the speaker made a brilliant argument and the audience was well paid for going.

The Augusta Band furnished entrancing music.

READ THIS AND PROFIT THEREBY!

This is a trying time of the year. Many discomforts arise from the heat. The best way to be comfortable is by bathing often, at least twice daily, and by using a liberal quantity of talcum powder. By bathing often one keeps the skin clean and the pores open, thereby allowing the entire body to "breathe freely," which means perfect health.

The best soap to use for the bath and toilet is Dr. Peck's Complexion Soap, a non-injurious, healthful soap.

Talcum powder keeps the skin cool, relieves heat rash, stops chafing and is an excellent toilet requisite. We have a number of kinds.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius S. Degman are entertaining an 81-pound baby girl since Sunday.

Mr. Lewis Jenkins arrived home Saturday from a delightful month's visit with relatives in Illinois.

Prof. Edwin Boggs was a welcome visitor to our school Tuesday afternoon. He gave a brief but very instructive lecture which was rendered more interesting by a number of beautiful sections from the "Martha Zeigler Magazine." He closed his remarks by asking the children who it was of whom the highest note of praise was? "He went about doing good." After a correct answer he asked them to commemorate this visit by memorizing the text, and making further study of the Master's life. Miss Goodwin says "his visit and lecture was an inspiration to all of us and we are looking forward to sharing him visit us again." Prof. Boggs is a man of whom our entire community is proud. His ability and energy is beyond compare when it is remembered that his pathway through life is denied what we all consider our most precious possession—eyesight.

Mr. Scott Fletcher gives a most interesting description of his trip through the West. He was fortunate in reaching Fresno county, California, at the time of the Annual Fruit Fair. The Board of Trade took possession of all tourists and visitors from the East, put them in rigs and took them on a parade over miles and miles of the finest roads through a country where peaches, grapes, pears and in fact all kinds of fruits were so abundant that sales were spoken of only "by the ton" or "carload." Mr. Fletcher, as a wealthy Kentucky Colonel, was placed in Mr. Huntington's own automobile and rubbed elbows with the great and near great, not forgetting to maintain silence that is golden while listening to speech that is silver. After being the guest of the Board of Trade during the Fair, he visited a cousin who had settled there thirty years ago and who had just closed out his year's crop of raisins, 57 tons at a fancy price. Mr. Fletcher reiterates the statement of other tourists—that the immensity of our Great West must be seen to be appreciated.

DISTRICT CONVENTION

Meeting of Christian Endeavor Workers Held at Vanceburg

The District Convention of the Young People's Societies Christian Endeavor has been in session since Friday last at Vanceburg.

The sessions have been well attended, delegates from all over the district being present.

Every possible effort had been made by the good people of the Lewis county capital to entertain the visitors and the meeting was a very successful one.

Mr. Oscar Hawthorne, of Ashland, was re-elected President, and Miss Nellie Williams of this city, was chosen Secretary.

Angusta was named as the next meeting place of the convention.

Maysville was represented at the convention by Misses Deisy Chisholm, Natalie Cooper, Patti Quintance, Mary and Florence Wilson, Nelle Williams, Anna Bauer and Stella Freeman.

If the proposed bridge over the Ohio river at Rockport, Ind., is built it will prove of decided advantage to Kentucky. The building of the bridge and the completion of the extension of the Southern Railroad from Jasper to French Lick Springs, Ind., would make a new route to Chicago for points in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Captain Thomas Glasscock is dead at his home at Wheeling, W. Va., in the eighty-second year of his age. Death was due to a paralytic stroke. Captain Glasscock built nearly all the cabin of the old Union Line of boats that plied between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh in the latter part of the fifties, and is said to have been the only living river man who was identified with that line.

A new regime for the packet business of the upper Ohio is promised if the plans of Captain W. E. Roe are consummated. The report that Captain Roe had purchased the boats owned by Captain Gordon Green is not the true situation. Captain Roe has purchased the business of the Green Line between Pittsburgh and the Kanawha river and the Green Line of boats will not compete with Captain Roe's boats in that trade. It has been rumored that Captain Roe planned the consolidation of all the packet lines of the upper Ohio and Monongahela rivers.

The South Atlantic States have a big waterway project of their own. They contemplate an all-water route through Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky, connecting with the Mississippi. The projected waterway is styled the Atlantic and Great Western. The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has just received the plans, and is taking steps to enlist Government aid in the project. The route would begin at Brunswick, Ga., going up the river to Macon, the present head of navigation, thence up the headwaters of the Ocmulgee, to a point near Atlanta, where the largest cut would be made, across the headwaters of the Etowah, thence into the Coosa river at Rome, Ga.; thence along the Coosa to Gladens, Ala., where a short cut would tap the Tennessee river at Guntersville, near Huntsville, Ala., and thence straight to the Mississippi at Cairo. It is estimated that the entire project could be carried out at an expenditure of only "by the ton" or "carload." Mr. Fletcher, as a wealthy Kentucky Colonel, was placed in Mr. Huntington's own automobile and rubbed elbows with the great and near great, not forgetting to maintain silence that is golden while listening to speech that is silver.

| With a back constantly aching, With distressing urinary disorders, Daily existence is but a struggle. No need to keep it np. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Mayville people endorse this claim: Mrs. Mary Thomas, 204 Limestone street, Mayville, Ky., says: "I am only too pleased to confirm the statement I made in the spring of 1900 recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, after they had relieved me of backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble. During the years that have elapsed since I made that statement I have had occasion to give Doan's Kidney Pills a further trial and I have found that it requires only a few doses to ward off attacks of kidney trouble. I can also point to the case of my hoy, twelve years old, who at the time I first used Doan's Kidney Pills was troubled a great deal with weakness of the kidneys and could not control the secretions properly. I gave him Doan's Kidney Pills and he improved rapidly under their use. The relief he found has proved lasting and from his experience and mine I am certainly warranted in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills." | |
